

Data protection

We already take care of your details

You may have heard about the new data protection measures (GDPR) which came into force 25th May 2018. We are happy to assure you that in the PDNSA we are already compliant to the level required of us by the new regulations, so there is no action for you to take at present.

We do not use data for any commercial gain, do not pass it on to third parties and take great care to protect privacy. You have already opted into retention of your details by the PDNSA, either on joining or on registering for our conference. When you renew your membership or enrol for the conference, you will again see the option to confirm your acceptance of the use of your details in order to contact you about PDNSA matters in the future. We only send out information which we believe may be of genuine use or interest to you in your role within the context of the PDNSA.

You may, of course, opt out at any time if you no longer wish us to use your details to send out Emails, by contacting us through the website, or by choosing the option to unsubscribe at the foot of any Emails we send.